We appreciate your interest!

Seminar Inquiries

If you are interested in our business, wedding, or children's etiquette training programs or seminars, please email Steven Puettner at seminars@emilypost.com or fill out a contact form:

- Emily Post Business Seminars Contact Form
- Emily Post Business Etiquette Train the Trainer Contact Form
- Emily Post Children's Etiquette Train the Trainer Contact Form

Media and Publicity

If you would like to interview Peggy, Peter, Anna, Lizzie, or Dan, please fill out our Media Request Form
.

Literary Representation and Related Rights

The Emily Post Institute, Inc. and its authors are represented by Katherine Cowles of the CowlesRyan Agency. You can reach Katherine at katherine@cowlesryan.com .

Internship Inquiries

The Emily Post Institute is proud to support a strong internship program in a dynamic work environment. We offer training and experience in publishing, PR, marketing, new media, and web developement. You can find more information about the program at our internship page . To begin the application process, please fill out our Internship Contact Form .

Etiquette Questions

Follow Our Blog

On the Emily Post Institute's Q & A blog, Emily Post's Etiquette Daily , we moderate a community forum where etiquette fans can ask questions of us and each other. Etiquette Daily is the best place to ask your etiquette question and we invite you to join the conversation.

For the fastest answer to your question, ask it in the comments section of the most recent "Open Thread" on the blog. A Post author, institute staff member, or community member may likely be able to provide useful guidance.

View Our Columns

Peter Post answers business etiquette questions weekly in his column Etiquette at Work for The Boston Globe . To submit questions for consideration, email Peter at etiquetteatwork@emilypost.com.

Peggy Post also answers general etiquette questions in Good Housekeeping . To submit general etiquette questions, visit goodhousekeeping.com/peggy .

Anna Post answers wedding etiquette questions weekly for The Huffington Post's Manners Mondays series. To submit wedding questions, tweet them to @HuffPostWedding with the hashtag #MannersMondays or submit them on the

The Huffington Post Weddings
Facebook
page.

Review Our Books

Emily Post books are available for online purchase at our Amazon Store as well as at libraries and bookstores nationwide.

For general etiquette:

- Emily Post's Etiquette, 18th edition
- Excuse Me, But I Was Next ...

For wedding etiquette:

- Emily Post's Wedding Etiquette, 6th Edition

For business etiquette:

- The Etiquette Advantage in Business, 3rd Edition

For children's etiquette (for parents):

- The Gift of Good Manners

To see our list of over twenty books about all kinds of etiquette, please visit our bookstore .

Contact Us Directly

If you wish to contact us directly, our phone number is (802) 860-1814. Please be advised that we ask you to seek answers to personal etiquette questions through our extensive free website articles ; our blog, Emily Post's Etiquette Daily ; or our many books .

Our mailing address is:

The Emily Post Institute
444 South Union Street
Burlington, VT 05401