

Contact Us

We appreciate your interest!

Seminar Inquiries:

If you are interested in our business etiquette or children's etiquette training programs or seminars, please email Steven Puettner at seminars@emilypost.com or fill out a contact form:

- Emily Post Business Seminars Contact Form
- Emily Post Business Etiquette Train the Trainer Contact Form
- Emily Post Children's Etiquette Train the Trainer Contact Form

Media and Publicity:

If you would like to interview Peggy, Peter, Anna, Lizzie, or Dan, please fill out our Media Request Form

Literary Representation and Related Rights:

The Emily Post Institute, Inc. and its authors are represented by Katherine Cowles of the CowlesRyan Agency. You can reach Katherine at katherine@cowlesryan.com.

Internship Inquiries:

The Emily Post Institute is proud to support a strong internship program in a dynamic work environment. We offer training and experience in publishing, PR, marketing, new media, and web development. You can find more information about the program at our internship page. To begin the application process, please fill out our Internship Contact Form.

For Etiquette Questions: Follow Our Blog

On the Emily Post Institute's Q & A blog, Emily Post's Etiquette Daily, we moderate a community forum where etiquette fans can ask questions of us and each other. Etiquette Daily is the best place to ask your etiquette question and we invite you to join the conversation.

For the fastest answer to your question, ask it in the comments section of the most recent "Open Thread" on the blog. A Post author, institute staff member, or community member may likely be able to provide useful guidance.

View Our Columns

Peter Post answers business etiquette questions weekly in his column Etiquette at Work for The Boston Globe. To submit questions for consideration, email Peter at etiquetteatwork@emilypost.com.

Peggy Post answers wedding etiquette questions in her column, Well-Mannered Wedding, for the New York Times. To submit wedding etiquette questions, email Peggy at weddingmanners@nytimes.com.

Peggy Post also answers general etiquette questions in Good Housekeeping. To submit general etiquette questions, visit

goodhousekeeping.com/peggy

.

Review Our Books

Emily Post books are available for online purchase at our Amazon Store as well as at libraries and bookstores nationwide.

For general etiquette:

- Emily Post's Etiquette , 18th edition
- Excuse Me, But I Was Next ...

For wedding etiquette:

- Emily Post's Wedding Etiquette, 6th Edition

For business etiquette:

- The Etiquette Advantage in Business, 3rd Edition

For children's etiquette (for parents):

- The Gift of Good Manners

To see our list of over twenty books about all kinds of etiquette, visit our bookstore .

Contact Us Directly:

If you need to contact us directly, our phone number is (802) 860-1814. Please be advised that we ask you to seek answers to personal etiquette questions through our extensive free website articles

; our blog,

Emily Post's Etiquette Daily

; or our many

books

Our mailing address is:

The Emily Post Institute

444 South Union Street

Burlington, VT 05401